Opponents Request Special Meeting To Deal With School

By Julie M. Barry

Last Monday, Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, a group opposed to the establishment of the proposed Collaborative School, filed a 415-signature petition for a special town meeting to deal with the Collaborative School.

The warrant reads as follows, "To see if the town will vote to enter into a contract with the City of Lawrence for the purpose of developing an urban/suburban collaborative school, and to see if the town will vote to raise by taxation, by transfer from available funds, by borrowing or by any combination of the foregoing and appropriate the sum of $10 or more for land acquisition and construction of such a school."

The petition met the necessary requirement of 200 signatures, according to Town Clerk Elden Salter, who said the board of registrars is currently certifying the signatures.

The selectmen will set a date for a special town meeting to be held within 45 days, Salter said. Considering this requirement, the meeting must take place by June 30.

"We're calling for a special Town Meeting to resolve this issue once and for all," Jack Dziadul, head of CNS, said.

Next year, the School Committee faces many issues, such as the grade reorganization, Dziadul said. If the proposed Collaborative School passes at the Town Meeting, it will be an issue. But, if not, he says the School Committee can concentrate on other issues. "To carry on for another four or five months just doesn't seem to make sense," Dziadul said.

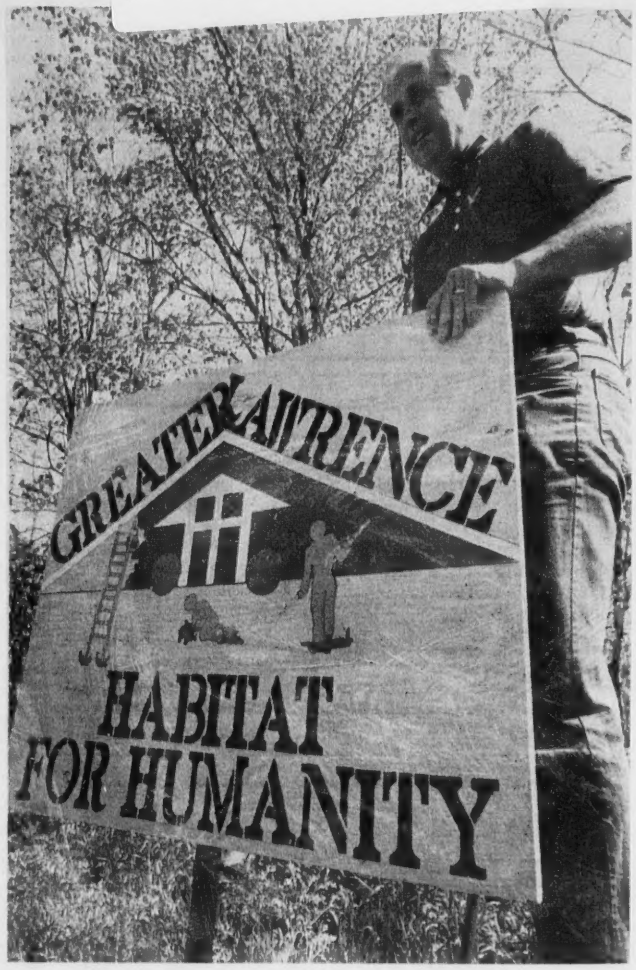

The school committee decided to send a questionnaire to parents of all children 11 years old and younger to gather opinions regarding the Collaborative School at its May 3 meeting.

Discontent with the committee's

Habitat Hikers

John Surrett, building committee chairman of Greater Lawrence Habitat for Humanity Inc., anticipates the arrival of about 80 walkers Sunday. The walkers trekked six miles through Lawrence to raise between $5,000 and $6,000 for the building of eight new Habitat homes. The units will be located on Railroad Street in Lawrence.

Saturday Glass Drive Cancelled

Andover's monthly glass drive originally scheduled for Saturday, May 21, will not be held because of the increased traffic and congestion expected for Clown Town in the Bartlet-Chestnut Street area around the park. Support for the regular glass drives run by the volunteers of Andover Recycling, Inc. is always very strong and the presence of a large glass bin and many cars in and out of the Bartlet Street parking lot beside Town Hall would add to the confusion.

The next drive for recyclable glass will be June 18 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Council Planning Reception

The Parent Advisory Council will host a coffee reception this Friday, May 20, from 7:15 a.m. to 8 a.m. at the high school library annex. All high school staff, faculty and parents are invited. The reception is the last one scheduled for this academic year and will include a special presentation to the faculty.

To Replace Flags On Graves

The Patriotic Holiday Committee, with the assistance of local veterans organizations, will replace the American flags on the graves of all veterans interred in Andover cemeteries prior to Memorial Day.

Members of the Veterans of foreign Wars, Post #2128 and the American Legion Post #8 will meet at the veterans headquarters in the old East Junior High School Sunday, May 22, at 11 a.m.

Rain date will be Sunday, May 29, at 11 a.m.

The assistance of all able bodied members of both posts is needed as there are more than 1,200 graves to honor.

Residents Asked To Fly Flags

The Andover Patriotic Holiday Commitee and the Street of Memorial Flags Committee would like all Andover residents to make this Memorial Day a day of remembering the men and women who shed their blood and gave their lives so we can live in a free world.

One way is to join the Street of Memorial Flags progam by flying a flag in front of your home.

DCS Offers Jobs To Students

The Department of Community Services continues to offer job opportunities to junior high/high school students interested in earning extra money without the commitment of a permanent job.

The "Rent-A-Tee" program gives the teens of Andover an opportunity to become involved with the community and to provide them with working experience. Residents continue to hire students to do a variety of jobs, ranging from mowing lawns, raking, weeding, to babysitting and house cleaning. With spring clean-up upon us, the demand for workers is beginning to exceed the supply.

Applications are available in the DCS office for energetic, reliable young people interested in earning between $4-$6 per hour. A $2 registration fee for teens and employers is required for entry into the program. For further information, contact Selma Flieder, coordinor of the Rent-A-Teen Program, at the DCS office.

Receives Honors

Laura Hovious was awarded the Scholastic Achievement Award in Medical Technology for high grade point average on Honors Day, April 25, by the College of Medicine at the University of Vermont.

Hovious, formerly of Andover, is the daughter of Tom and Barbara Hovious of Fairview, Penn. She will graduate the university, the oldest and largest institution of higher learning in Vermont, with high honors in May.

Hovious is a 1984 graduate of Andover High School.

University of New Hampshire student Dean Orfanedes of Andover was honored by the College of Engineering and Physical Sciences at an awards ceremony recently at the Elliott Alumni Center.

Orfanedes, a senior studying mathematics, won the Dr. Ruth Peters Memorial Award. Peters taught mathematics at the university for many years and the award is "a living memorial to her interest in discovering outstanding students and encouraging their development," says Otis Sproul, dean of the college. The award was established in her memory in 1964 by her sister, Dr. Mary Fieser.

Sproul and Associate Dean Donald Melvin presented 34 awards to 54 students. In addition to the undergraduate awards, graduate teaching assistant Rita L. Fairbrother of the mathematics department was honored for teaching excellence.

"These awards honor not only the achievements of our students, but also the care, nurturing and education they have received in their homes and local schools," says Sproul. "Paying tribute to these successes is one of the things we most enjoy doing."

You're Never Too Short, Too Big or Too Tall for a Fine Suit from Enzo.

Can you tell the difference between the suits in this picture? They were each specially made for three of our very good customers. The one on the left is extra big. The others are extra-tall and extra-small.

Even though we regularly display more than 300 suits in a variety of styles and different fabrics, sometimes our selection isn't big enough. Or tall enough. Or short enough.

The point is, if we can't fit you to one of the suits in our showroom, we'll take your exact measurements, and let you select from an assortment of the very finest materials. Then we'll have a suit made for you that represents the same outstanding value as all the great clothing in our store.

In many fine stores, if you're too short, too big or too tall, that's too bad. Not at Enzo. For whatever shape you're in, we'll fit you to your size today.

Public Gathers At Park

People have gathered at Central Park for many years and for many different reasons. In recent years families have gathered on Monday and Wednesday evenings throughout the summer to enjoy the Department of Community Services' free family movie program and concert series.

The movie program has been a wonderful setting for families to meet. Children play together, parents exchange stories, parenting tips and the like while handing out bug spray, homemade popcorn and blankets to settle in for a good movie. This summer's schedule includes "La Bamba," "Hoosiers," "Winnie the Pooh," "The Aristocats," "Pete's Dragon" and more. The movies begin Monday, July 11.

The concert series offers something for everyone, from bluegrass to the big bands, jazz to rock. Families and friends gather for a picnic supper and teens play frisbee while children climb the park's memorial cannon. The carefully tended trees and the bandstand make the New England scene picture perfect. The concerts begin Wednesday, July 6.

Well supported over the years, attendance has remained constant with good to excellent reviews being reported.

Enjoy Pomps

Pomps Pond, Andover's only public beach, is open mid-June until September and offers canoe rental, swimming lessons and a concession stand.

Beta Gamma Sigma was founded to encourage and reward scholarship and accomplishment among students of business and administration, to promote the advancement of education in the art and science of business and to foster integrity in the conduct of business operations. Election to Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest scholastic honor a student in business and administration can attain.

Bates graduated from Andover High School in 1978.

Academy, Town Prepare For Cycling Finals

Phillips Academy will host the New England Prep Cycling Federation championship road race this Sunday morning. From 9 a.m. to noon, the back roads of Andover will serve as a course for 150 of New England's best high school riders.

Andover selectmen have approved the use of a circuit which includes Campus Road, Main Street, Ballardvale Road, Sunset Rock Road, Spring Grove, Porter, Abbot and Phillips streets. Except for Phillips Street, roads will remain open on a one-way basis to traffic traveling in the same direction as the cyclist; town police and race marshalls will assist in routing traffic.

The school asks neighbors to keep children and pets, for their own safety as well as the safety of the racers, away from town roads during the hours of the race.

The academy expresses appreciation to the town and neighbors for enduring this inconvenience. Spectators are most welcome. Questions regarding the race may be directed to the academy's gym office.

1988 POLLEN COUNT GUIDE

What is Pollen?

During the reproductive cycle of certain plants pollen is produced to ensure the continuation of the species. Pollination occurs through the air when very small particles are released into the air by plants such as ragweed. A great number of Americans are allergic to the pollen of the ragweed plant. Similarly, trees pollinate during March and April and grasses pollinate during May and June. Ragweed pollinates during August and early September.

What are Mold Spores?

Mold spores are involved in the reproductive cycle of mold, which grow on the barks of the trees in the forests and in areas which are damp throughout the year. The inhalation of mold spores by patients allergic to these spores produces a reaction which is exactly similar to the inhalation of pollen by patients who are allergic to pollen. Sneezing, wheezing, scratching, and itching follows and patients are generally miserable.

Why Counts are Useful:

Counting pollen grains and mold spores in the air is useful in a number of ways:

1. If one suspects he is allergic to a substance he may, by following the pollen count, correlate symptoms with the counts;
2. If a patient is taking medication for a known allergy to pollen and mold spores, he may determine from the counts how protective the medication is;
3. If a patient is undergoing immunotherapy (allergy shots), he may determine from following the pollen and mold spore counts how effective the injections are in protecting him;
4. After the cessation of treatment by an allergist the patient may determine how successful the treatment has been by following the counts and observing the presence or absence of symptoms; and,
5. Finally, the allergist is guided in his treatment of allergic diseases by observing the counts and the reactivity of patients who are known to be allergic to the various substances in the air at the time of their release.

Method of Counting:

Various methods are used for counting pollens and mold spores. Currently New England Allergy and Immunology, P.C., utilizes the rotorod technique of intermittent air sampling of particles which impinge on a glass rod which is rotated automatically throughout a 24 hour cycle. A Burkard filter collects mold spores and this is simply an air trap which samples air which is forced through the trap. Our sampling site is in Andover, Massachusetts and all results are reported to the Pollen and Mold Committee at the University of Michigan.

How to Interpret Counts:

This is the most important section of the allergy guide for you as a patient. It tells you how to interpret the scores reported on the POLLEN HOTLINE, newspaper, television, radio, and through the office. Generally, the more allergic you are the more your symptoms will correlate with high counts, but it is possible to be allergic to one or more substances and have the total count low but the specific count to a particular allergen high and still be uncomfortable. For this reason, the detailed POLLEN COUNT HOTLINE is established for your needs.

SIMPLY FOLLOWING THE TABLE SCORING OUTLINE BELOW SHOULD GUIDE YOU TO INTERPRET THE NUMBERS. IF THERE ARE ANY QUESTIONS, PLEASE CALL THE OFFICE AT (617) 683-4299.

| Reported Scale | Your Symptoms | Actual Counts (in #/M³) of air |
|---|---|---|
| 0-3 | Mild | 10-100 Pollen20-200 Spores |
| 4-6 | Moderate | 100-500 Pollen200-1000 Spores |
| 7-10+ | Severe | 500-1000 Pollen1000-2000 Spores |

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Although many people regard it otherwise, toilet training needn't be a big deal. Like other aspects of child-rearing, training isn't a competition and years from now, it'll make little difference that you had to launder diapers for six months more than the parents next door. Patience on your part is as important to the baby's toilet training as bladder control. There's no set schedule for toilet training. Most parents expect to begin when their youngster is about 18 months of age, but the child, not the calendar, tells you when the time is right. Nothing you do or say will cause your child to do what he or she doesn't want to.

Pike Goes Back In Time

Third-graders at The Pike School will follow the colonial practice of reading their lessons from horn books and doing ciphering at the Andover Historical Society and be part of the children's study of the lives of people in Colonial America.

The Pike youngsters and their teachers, dressed in period costume, plan to gather in front of the Andover Inn tomorrow and walk down Main Street for the opening of school at 9 a.m. in the barn of the Amos Blanchard House. Children will bring gifts for their teachers, such as small pieces of firewood, fruits and vegetables. Their baskets will also contain the hornbooks they have made, birchbark and quill pens, Bibles or Torahs and copies of Aesop's Fables.

This outing has been organized by third-grade teachers Chris Nicolson and Dave Ulfelder in conjunction with Barbara Thibault.

Of course, if you choose to, you can repay more or even the full balance of your loan with no prepayment penalties. The principal payments will be automatically recredited to your FirstLine account, so they'll be available for use again. And so you'll have an up-to-date record of all your transactions, we'll send you a detailed monthly statement.

"All children have talent, no matter where you live," said Dolores Dunning, Bancroft Elementary art teacher. This is the purpose of a joint art effort between two schools — Bancroft Elementary and the Arlington School in Lawrence. The students' watercolor paintings are being displayed in the Addison Gallery at Phillips Academy until May 24, when they will move to the Lawrence Public Library. Pictured are Bancroft Bancroft second-graders whose art work is being displayed, Willie Olney, Molly Smith and Ahmed McDonald.

Students Get Together For Art

Students from Lawrence's Arlington School and Andover's Bancroft Elementary School reached across the Merrimack River last week to present a combined art display at the Phillips Andover Addison Gallery. The river itself was the subject of the 37-picture exhibit; appropriately, watercolor was the medium of choice.

Mounted as part of a multi-media presentation sponsored by the Merrimack Watershed Council, the display featured views of the river painted by the second-grade students of art teachers Janice Sheehy (Arlington) and Dolores Dunning (Bancroft). "They painted the mills, the water, the bridges, even wildlife at the edge of the river," said Dunning, who, like Sheehy, co-taught classes at both schools for the project.

The current project marks the second collaboration by students of the two teachers; earlier this year, two older classes from the schools presented a joint exhibition of self-portraits, which was displayed in turn in the Andover and Lawrence public libraries.

The Sanborn School Playground Committee extends a special thank you to all the Sanborn Families who contributed to the funding and construction of our new playground structures! We are pleased to recognize the extra effort made by local companies to help us realize our goal.

Daily Life In The USSR

Victor Faynzilberg of Crescent Drive will be the speaker at the Friends of Andover Memorial Hall Library annual meeting Sunday, May 22, at 5 p.m. The public is welcome. The talk will be about daily life in the Soviet Union. The Faynzilberg family arrived in Andover last September (via Vienna) from Kishinev, capital of Moldavian SSR near Romania and the Black Sea.

Victor, his wife, Larisa, and their two children, Biana, 6, and Leon, 2, came to Andover with Larisa's parents, Berko and Maria Slobodyansky. Evelina Kolchinsky, Larisa's sister, has lived in Andover since 1986 and had arrived in this country in 1981 with her husband, Alex, and their two children.

The Faynzilbergs both have university degrees in computer science and master's degrees. Victor is a computer hardware engineer employed at Apollo Computer in Chelmsford. Larisa is studying at Merrimack College to improve her English and hopes to find work as a programmer; her father is employed and her mother is taking English classes at the International Institute in Lawrence.

Some of Victor's earliest experiences in Andover were at the library where he went to research employment opportunities. Thus, the Friends of the Library are pleased he accepted their invitation to speak about daily life in Russia.

The Friends is a membership organization just short of 1,000 Andover individual and family members that provides volunteers and services, sponsors trips, cultural and educational programs and makes special purchases for the library. A short business meeting and election of the board of directors for the coming year will precede the talk. Refreshments will be served.

Elected Director

Arthur G. Robins, M.D., of Andover was elected a representative director to the national board of directors of the American Lung Association, the Christmas Seal People, at their organizational luncheon. He will serve until May 1991.

Robins is chief of the pulmonary section and assistant chief of medical services at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Manchester, N.H. and clinical instructor in medicine at Harvard Medical School.

Doherty Happenings

A jazz fest, visiting author and video "Beach Party" highlight the May calendar at Doherty Junior High School.

A number of Doherty musicians recently took part in the N.A.J.E. Northeast/Southeast District Junior High School Jazz Festival held at West Elementary School.

The school welcomed parents of fifth-graders at a special orientation session last week. Parents had a chance to become familiar with the curriculum planned for next year and ask questions.

Charles Crawford, author of "Bad Fall," "Letter Perfect' and "The Three-Legged Race," addressed eighth-grade language arts classes at Doherty recently. He is a middle-school English teacher in Pennsylvania. His books have been part of the Doherty language arts program for the past eight years.

The Andover High School cafeteria was transformed into a Videostar "Beach Party" last Saturday for students in grades 7, 8 and 9. In addition to dancing to a video-disc-jockey, there were games and snacks.

A group of eighth-graders, in conjunction with their sociology unit, took a trip to Old Sturbridge Village. The students spent most of the day with museum teachers examining family, work and community in the 18th century.

This week is International Awareness Week at Doherty. Activities have been planned, including visits by members of students' families who were born in a foreign country.

Jazz singer Semenya McCord entertained students at a recent assembly. This presentation was sponsored by the School Improvement Council.

Doherty will hold its annual spring open house tonight from 5:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. The evening will begin with a buffet dinner. Other events include a jazz concert, an adult and student road race, tour of the school and special displays and a student concert. Families of current and incoming Doherty students are welcome

Doherty will sponsor a school dance Friday, May 20. Seventh-graders will have their dance from 2:15 p.m. to 4 p.m. while eighth and ninth-graders will hold their dance from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

UMass Chorale To Make Tour Of Japan

The University of Massachusetts Chorale and the Tradewinds Ensemble, a faculty-student jazz octet, will leave May 24 for a 12-day concert tour of Japan.

Deborah Brown of North Andover is one of 63 university students who will perform in Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka and at a world food festival and Hokkaido University, both in Sapporo, the capital of Hokkaido. The appearance at Hokkaido University will be at a commemoration of the close ties between that school and the University of Massachusetts. The Sapporo school was founded 112 years ago by William S. Clark, an early president of the university.

Brown, daughter of Kenneth and Muriel Brown of Carlton Lane, is a 1987 graduate of North Andover High School.

The freshman psychology major sings soprano II.

"I joined the chorale because I've always loved to sing and I had a wonderful time in Miss Graham's chorus at North Andover High School," Brown said. "The university chorale's spring tour was in April and we went from Auburn to Fairhaven to New Bedford. It was a great success and it gave us valuable experience in staying with host families.

UMass

"Our group became one family and we're ready for Japan."

Richard E. DuBois, music professor and director of the chorale, said members of the group are mostly non-music majors chosen by audition. They practice a minimum of five and a half hours a week.

In past years the chorale has traveled to Spain, Portuagal, the Soviet Union, Italy, England, Austria and Hawaii. Money for the tours is raised by the students.

Students earn academic credit for their work in the chorale but the most important reward, said Dubois, is the "tremendous satisfaction they get from being part of a group striving to excel. Many of them come to feel that this is the most important experience of their university career."

Bedding Plants

Spring and summer bedding plants are available at Massachusetts greenhouses, nurseries and garden centers, according to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

Geraniums, petunias and marigolds are among the most popular bedding plants and can be planted in pots, tubs, window boxes and gardens. Due to their low cost, bedding plants make excellent filler plants and mix well with perennials for continuous summer bloom.

Most bedding plants reuire only moist soil, fertilizing every three weeks and removal of faded flowers. Some require full sun and some require shade.

Organ Recitals To Resume

The "Great Organ" for the Boston Music Hall arrived from Rotterdam in March 1863 aboard the Dutch brig Presto. So began the history of the first concert organ in the United States. Since 1909, the Great Organ in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall remains one of the outstanding instruments in America. The 1988 series of summer organ recitals will honor these 125 years. Samuel Carabetta, organ, and Michael Calmes, tenor, will open the season on Wednesday, June 1, at 8 p.m.

Carabetta is organist and choirmaster at St. John's Church, Washington, D.C., known as "the church of the Presidents." A native of Connecticut, he earned his bachelor of music at the Boston Conservatory of Music, studying organ with Dr. Phillip Steinhaus, and received his master of music degree from Southern Methodist University where he was a student of Dr. Robert Anderson. Carabetta is a member of the Royal School of Church Music and Association of Anglican Musicans and of the executive board of the Washington, D.C., chapter of American Guild of Organists.

While excelling in an extensive and demanding repertoire as oratorio soloist, concert singer and recitalist, Cames made his operatic debut in Madam Butterly and has created vibrantly sung and acted characters in operas ranging from Ariadne auf Naxos to The Rake's Progress. He made his European concert debut in the summer of 1985, performing the Bach "Magnificat" in Venice and throughout Yugoslavia with the Rijeka Opera Orchestra. Calmes is a tenor soloist at historic King's Chapel in Boston. The "Four Marion Antiphons" were composed for Calmes to perform at the Church of the Madeleine in Paris.

The program will include Prelude, Fugue and Chaconne in C Major by Dietrich Buxehude; Arrival of the Queen of Sheebah from Solomon by Georg Friedrich Handel, arranged by Maynard; Symphonie Gothique Op. 70 by Charles-Marie Widor; Four Marion Antiphons performed to honor the composer, Daniel Pinkham, whose 65th birthday will be celebrated June 5; Sonets in f minor, Op. 65, No. 1 by Felix Mendelssohn; Jubilate, Op. 67, No. 2 by William Mathias; Toccata in F Major by Johann Sebastian Bach; Psalm Prelude Op. 32, No. 1 by Herbert Howells; and Premiere Symphonie (1944) by Jean Langlais.

Steven Young will perform at the Music Hall June 8.

Annual Meeting Conducted

Dr. Larry Larsen of Andover talks with Dr. Nina Scarito, a director of Creative Living Inc., at the group's annual meeting.

More than 50 members of Creative Living, Inc. attended the annual meeting held recently at the Prescott Nursing Home in North Andover. Creative Living, Inc. is a local non-profit group of community members seeking to establish innovative residences for adult retarded citizens.

The agenda included the re-election of Larry Larsen, Ph.D., as president, a role he has served in for the past year.

Daniel Sullivan of Andover was re-elected vice president, Laurelle Parotta of Bradford was elected clerk and Lucille Giannone of Andover was re-elected treasurer.

New directors John Booth, Rev. Richard Gross, S.J., Atty. Stuart Holper, Rev. Arthur Johnson, OSA, Patricia Kiley, Morris Klein, Clarence Perry, Janice Ryan, John Scilleppi and Joseph Sweeney were welcomed. The election of directors to one-, two- and three-year terms completed the agenda.

In his address, Larsen said, "We are moving toward that day when we will be able to care for adult retarded citizens on a long-term basis. We have a tremendous board of directors that will enable Creative Living to use its many talents to pull together towards our goal."

According to Larsen, the group's first capital campaign will kick of later in 1988. Funds raised will and have been used toward property purchased recently to house the group's first residence for adult retarded citizens who have lived at home with their families rather than in state residences.

The volunteers of Classic Threads, a retail store at 447 Essex St., Lawrence which benefits the goals of Creative Living, Inc.,

What does the term "eglomise" mean?
Eglomise is a centuries old technique of painting on the reverse side of glass. Although Architectural detail and lettering are kept uniform by silk screening, the coloring of our buildings and landscaping is hand painted. As a result, the tones and the shading of each painting vary from rendering to another. And the "eglomise" technique has a distinct look all its own. Incidentally, the name "eglomise" is derived from Jean Baptiste Glomi, an eighteenth century French artist, who is generally given credit for inventing this technique.

Volunteers Needed

The Foster Care Review Unit of the Department of Social Services is in need of volunteer case reviewers in the Lawrence area. A volunteer case reviewer participates as a member of a panel of three people reviewing cases of families who have a child placed outside the home.

When family problems require placing a child outside the home, the Department of Social Services arranges substitute care to meet the child's needs. The Foster Care Review Unit is an independent unit whose primary responsibility is to review cases of families who have a child in substitute care.

Volunteers receive training, a stipend, ongoing support and participate in at least two case reviews a month at the local DSS office. Each review takes one to two hours.

Call Colette Doyle at the Executive Office of Human Services in Worcester for further information.

Logan Airport

The airports were judged on airport amenities, eating and sleeping facilities, ground transportation services and flight service and delays.

The magazine listed Logan's passenger amenities made the airport one of the best to "get stuck at."

survey was the impetus for CNS's decision to petition for a Town Meeting, said Dziadul.

Before the School Committee approved the survey, there was a great deal of discussion on its wording, and with the exception of Susan Poore, all of the committee members were satisfied that it was objective.

The committee approved the survey in its final form at the May 17 meeting. School Committee Chairman Donald Robb said it should be sent out within the next few weeks.

Dziadul says the survey should have been more professional and should be more comprehensive, including teachers and all taxpayers.

It's biased, according to Dziadul, because the majority of the School Committee supports the Collaborative School, and they are drafting the survey and judging the results.

Dziadul said it was his instinct that the results would not be interpreted objectively. "So, given this, I say, what better way to interpret than a town vote," he said.

Dennis Richards, Collaborative School project director, thinks the Town Meeting is unfortunate.

"We're still not ready to present to the town enough information for them to make an informed decision," Richards said. "I think it's appropriate to be voted down because there's not enough information."

There are still some issues pending, such as financing at the state and federal level, new program possibilities and teacher participation, Richards said.

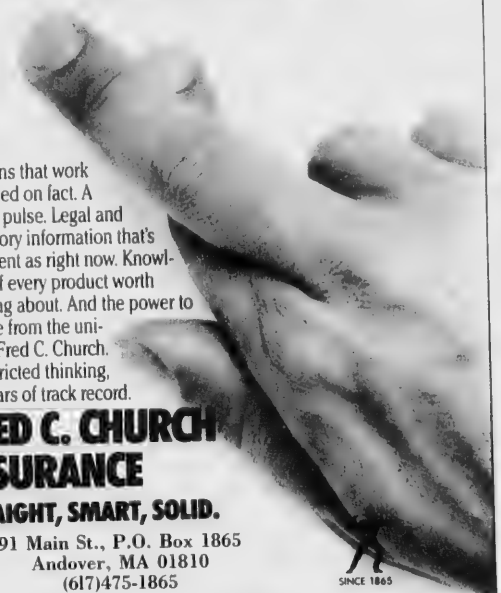

"They're (CNS) trying to cut off discussion prematurely—just when it's starting," Richards said.

Technically, it is possible to resubmit warrant articles at pursuant town meetings.

Andover Ambulance Rates Rank High

By Frank Messina

A TOWNSMAN survey of ambulance rates charged by neighboring municipalities shows Andover topping the list—although town officials say citizens still won't be paying a cent for emergency service.

Last week, selectmen approved a first-time-ever ambulance fee of $100 plus $7 per mile for residents—the highest rate among five surrounding communities that operate their own ambulance services.

North Andover will only charge non-residents while other fees range from Methuen's flat rate of $65 for everybody to North Reading's $100 plus $4 month resident rate.

Cities such as Lawrence, which contract with private ambulance firms, charge even more.

Bay State Ambulance, which services Lawrence and several other municipalities, wants $158 plus $100 for emergency transportation, plus $7 per mile. Other private firms ask $135 to $147 plus mileage.

With North Andover the lone holdout, the shift to charging residents for ambulance service with the intention of the bill ultimately winding up in an insurance company's hands has taken place in the local area approximately over the past five to seven years.

Insurance companies have been critical, saying that placing the burden on their backs would eventually recycle the cost back to the consumer in the form of higher premiums.

"That's absolutely false," said Tony Torisi, Andover finance director.

The amount of compensation awarded for ambulance services is an extremely small portion of total state health care cost, which is what the insurance industry bases rate changes on, said Torisi.

Until last week, neither Andover or its neighbor, North Andover, charged residents. North Andover Fire Chief William Dolan said it was unlikely the town would begin charging for ambulance service in the near future.

"Periodically we take a look at it," said Dolan. "But residents have always wanted to hold onto their tax-based services. We (North Andover) let the people decide it."

Tewksbury Deputy Chief John Cuneo said that Proposition 2½ made the decision for the town.

After the state tax reform measure was passed, the town began looking at ways to increase revenue and eventually decided to charge residents and "collect through the insurance companies," said Cuneo.

After about $30,000 is deducted to pay a third party to bill insurance companies, Torisi anticipates about $100,000 revenue yearly from ambulance fees, which he says will be used to buy another ambulance.

"We want to keep the ambulance service running at the same level and even improve it," said Torisi.

Ambulance rates charged by neighboring communities are as follows:

- Lawrence used Bay State Ambulance, which bills both residents and non-residents $158 for non-emergency use, plus $100 if emergency transportation is needed, plus $7 per mile. Oxygen, if needed, runs $20.
- Methuen wants a flat, $65 fee for residents and non-residents alike.
- Middleton charges residents $85, non-residents $100. Mileage for both groups runs $3 per mile and oxygen costs $4.50.
- North Andover does not charge residents for ambulance service. Non-residents pay $100.
- North Reading calls for $100 from residents, $125 from non-residents plus $4 per mile and $10 for oxygen.

The CARE Ambulance company, which primarily services Chelmsford and Lowell, charges $145, plus $7 per mile and $25 for oxygen.

Shanahan's Ambulance service, covers Haverhill, West Boxford and Groveland, charges $135 and $8 per mile.

Town Enrollment At VoTech High School Goes Down

Julie M. Barry

Enrollment of Andover students at the Greater Lawrence Technical High School is declining, but efforts are being made to boost the fall roster.

The overall school enrollment has declined, but the number of Andover students attending the school has dropped to almost half the level it was ten years ago. During the 1977-'78 school year, 7 percent of the school's population was Andover residents. Now, only 3.7 percent are from Andover, according to Gerald Grasso, School Committee treasurer of the Technical High School.

Many students who attend the Technical School choose to continue their education by getting an associate's degree in such things as architecture, computer analysis, mechanical designing and the hotel industry—food and management, Grasso said. He says the students need an academic and technical background to attain an associate's degree.

In response to this, the school is expanding its curriculum to include college preparation courses, Grasso said.

Science classes were lacking in the current academic curriculum, according to Grasso, who said chemistry will be implemented next year and biology will be part of the curriculum the following year.

The science classes will be related to the technology the students are studying. It will be a four-year course that progresses with the students' area of study, said Louis Gleason, superintendent of the Technical School.

"We're hoping with the expansion, we'll get students who want both college preparation and technical background," Grasso said.

There are also students who move from the school directly into the work force. Gleason says there is a high demand for skilled laborers, and wages are higher than they have been in the past.

Many students start out in technical fields such as electronics, drafting and software industries, and at a higher pay rate than entry level jobs, said Grasso.

"A tremendous amount of jobs have been lost at the low end in the past several years," Gleason said. Due to this, the students must be prepared to be technicians, he said.

Today, the Technical School "gets students ready for a wider variety of jobs and at a higher level," Gleason said.

The school has improved and upgraded its programs during the past three years, Grasso said.

Culinary, electronics and carpentry remain popular areas of study, but according to Gleason, students are less aware of some industries that have more job openings and higher pay, such as machine tool

School Committee Supports Collaborative Agreement

By Julie M. Barry

The School Committee gave its vote of approval to an agreement between Andover and Lawrence with regard to the establishment, operation and maintenance of a Lawrence/Andover collaborative school at its meeting Tuesday night.

"We have supported the agreement," School Committee Chairman Donald Robb said. "We have not yet taken a final position on the Collaborative School."

Presumably, the School Committee will have to take a position before going to town meeting, Robb said.

Even then, the agreement will not be in effect until it is approved by Andover's town meeting, Lawrence's City Council and the commissioner of education.

The agreement had been accepted in spirit at the April 26 meeting, with the intent that certain issues would be explored.

Revisions were made in the following areas:

- Previously, the local systems had no control over the Collaborative School's budget. Since funding will be filtered through the local school systems, they must pay the balance if the state does not provide 100 percent reimbursement.

Now, the local school committees have some control. The agreement states that they can reject the Collaborative School budget if it exceeds state and federal reimbursement.

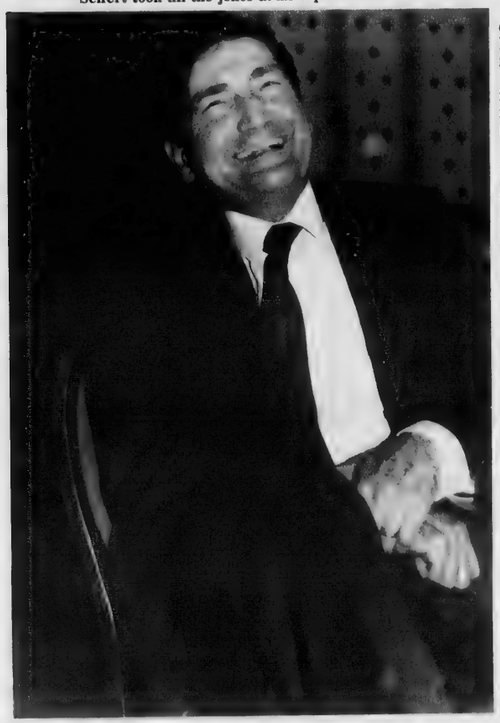

- Teachers for the proposed school must come from within the local school systems. But this does not apply to the support staff, such as custodians, cafeteria help and secretaries.
- One current member of each local School Committe will serve on the Collaborative School Committee. The length of that term has been reduced from two years to one year.

The termination clause was discussed at the April 26 meeting, but it has not been changed. As it stands, Andover can terminate its participation by a written amendment to the agreement. Steven Reef of Partridge Hill Road expressed concern that Andover may be stuck with debt service. The financial implications

Seifert took all the jokes at his expense in stride.

'It's been said that Ken Siefert is one of the most innovative, creative superintendents. Tonight we're here to roast the man who said it.'

Richard Neal, School Committee member

Putting On A Happy Face

By Julie M. Barry

A roasting of Andover's superintendent of schools put Kenneth Seifert on the hot seat, but he seemed to take it in stride and get as many laughs as those poking the fun.

Almost 500 people ventured to the Andover Marriott May 11 to witness "An Evening of Rollicking Roasting" of Seifert.

All the fun and ridicule was for a good cause. Proceeds from the event went to Andover's A Better Chance program.

ABC is designed to bring high school students to Andover to give them a better chance to attend college and a better chance at life, said ABC's founding president, Robert Klie.

Ten people took their turns making fun of Seifert in what his fishing buddy, Dr. Richard Secord, called "a cremation," not a roast.

Seifert has been known to be a good fisherman, but according to Secord, Seifert's son, Kevin, weighed 42 pounds at birth on his fishing scales.

Stretching the truth spills over to the size of the school budget, said former School Committee member Dr. Francis Griggs. He said Seifert went too far when he said "unless you increase this budget by 20 percent, God is going to call me home."

Many roasters alluded to Seifert's methodology of public speaking. "They say there are 25,000 useless words in the English language, and when he (Seifert) speaks, you're going to hear most of them," said William Lane, former School Committee member.

Often times, when Seifert speaks, it's a monologue, and no one knows what he said, according to School Committee member Richard Neal. "But," he said, "what can you say about someone whose favorite color is plaid?"

Isabelle Dobbie, a former Andover principal, recalled a time when Seifert was speechless—at his birthday party at the Shawsheen School when the hosts got his age wrong. "Later, he closed Shawsheen School so he could get a shower in his office," Dobbie said.

Several people, including Dan Warner, editor of The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, confirmed Seifert's claim that he is a former Golden Glove Champion. Seifert was known for his excellent reflexes, Warner said. "He didn't miss a shot below the belt."

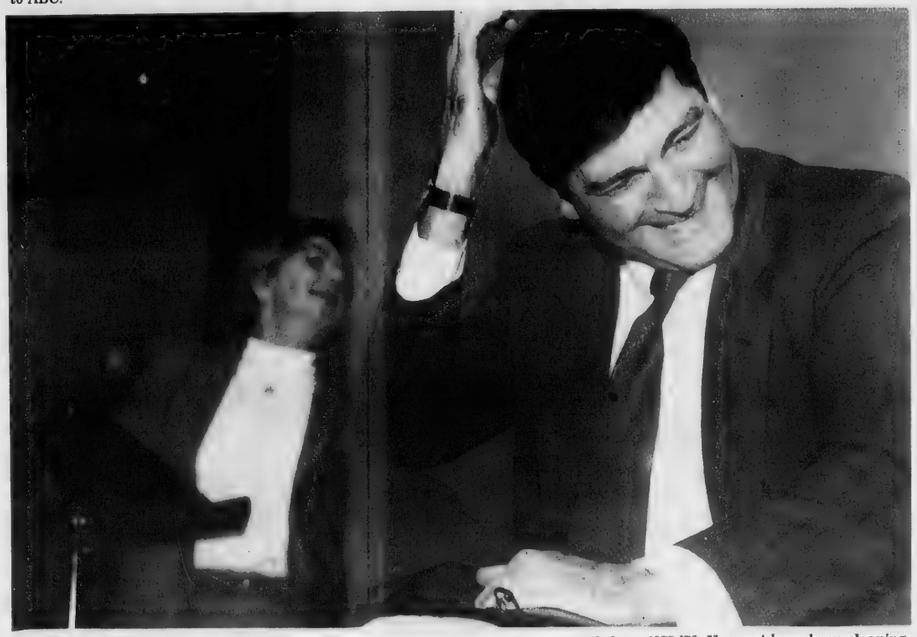

Richard Neal wasn't sure at first if he should show his face at a roast for Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Seifert, but after a few light-hearted jokes the bag came off. The joking, however, continued.

Ken Seifert is "a man who is indeed a person of the decade," said Dr. Larry Larsen, who co-wrote a book with Seifert. "Ken Seifert is a legend in his own mind."

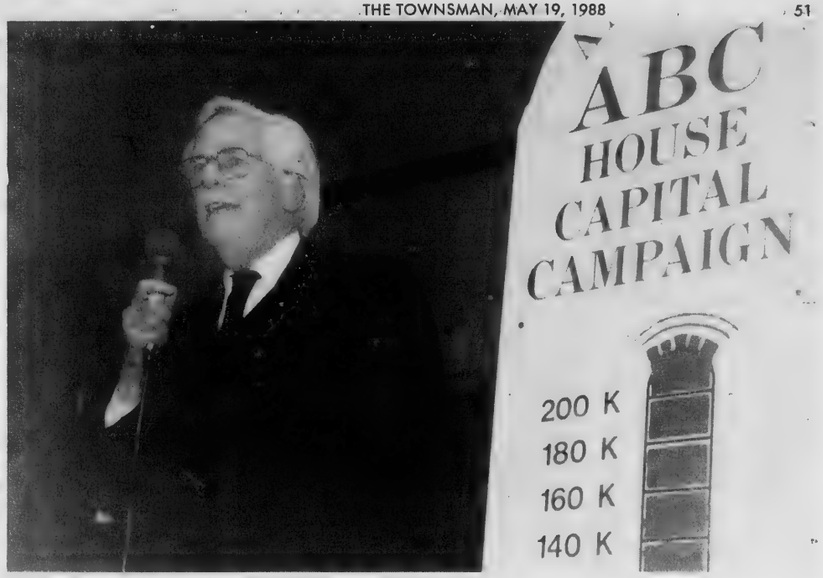

The night was successful in raising money for the ABC program. Since the Andover Marriot donated their services, the bulk of the proceeds from the $25 tickets and the money from bar sales all went to ABC.

Approximately $6,500 was raised for ABC. This money is being added to the ABC House Capital Building Campaign. ABC needs $250,000 to renovate its dormitory at 134 Main St., and proceeds from the roast boosted the campaign total to within $10,000 of that goal, said William Washburn, co-chairman of the roast committee.

Isabelle Dobbie, a former Andover principal and teacher, told guests at the roast that she recently received the superintendent's evaluation of her work from 1975-'76. He must have been cleaning his files, she said.

Robert Klie, founding president of the ABC program, gave a progress report on the fund-raising efforts of the recent past as well as some projections for the future.

Everyone who got up to roast Seifert left him and the audience laughing.

OPINION

Report To Andover

By Rep. Sue Tucker

Dear Representative Tucker: I live in Andover and I am very interested in cutting line item 0000-0001 which is the program for fill in the blank (mental health, transportation, education, etc.) Please vote to reduce spending for this program as you debate the state budget this week. Thank you. Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Constituent.

This is an example of a letter I have never received. To the contrary, on my desk is a pile of letters and messages from people I represent (not outside "interest groups") requesting my work and vote for increases in perhaps 20 separate line items, totalling some 300 million dollars in increased spending.

Among these requests for more state dollars: state aid to libraries; respite care for those who care for mentally or physically disabled relatives at home; lead paint removal; adult illiteracy; upgrading salaries for human service and day care workers; early intervention services for handicapped children; scholarships for college students. And the list goes on.

Every legislator, state or federal, Republican or Democrat, would relay the same message. General letters concerning "cut state spending" are certainly heeded, but budgets are not general: budgets are pages and pages of specific line items that affect lives.

Aside from citizen lobbying to establish and increase specific line item programs, there are institutional reasons the state budge grows each year like weeds after the rain:

• Local aid - Proposition 2½ changed the way public safety and education are financed in Massachusetts. Local government and schools could not survive without the four billion dollars the state sends back—double the amount since I entered the Legislature five years ago.

• Citizens vote overwhelmingly for expensive programs on the ballot: witness Question 4 in 1986, the ten-year timetable for cleaning up hazardous waste, which has added millions to the state budget.

• The courts regularly rule against the state on class action suits, forcing huge expenditures to fix up state hospitals, hire more staff, clean Boston Harbor and build prisons. In fact, most new state employees work either in the Department of Corrections or the Department of Mental Health in response to dangerous overcrowding and understaffing.

• Five years ago, the federal government funded almost 20 percent of the state budget, mainly in housing and human service grants. Today, only 10 percent of the budget comes from Washington and the state has taken over in areas such as housing subsidies and nutrition programs for children. This, indeed, was the goal of the

No Need To Rush

Those opposed to the Lawrence-Andover Collaborative School have decided that waiting until fall to decide the issue serves no ueful purpose, therefore, put the question before the Andover voters prior to the summer vacation period.

The move seems improper and probably based on the opposition's theory that putting the matter to the voters at this time provides them with a better advantage.

The group, headed by John Dizadul, this week submitted petitions to the town clerk, who in turn will present them to selectmen, calling for special town meeting, preferably June 20, to vote on the collaborative school issue.

The group will also ask that the issue be decided by secret ballot, another preposterous suggestion.

There would not seem to be a need to rush to judgment on this issue.

The combined community school proposal was originally set to face voters at the annual town meeting last month.

Considerable oratory and discussion took place as the town meeting date approached.

Then, both proponents and opponents agreed that sufficient information had not been provided the voters in order to make a proper judgment. It was decided to put the decision process off until the fall, allowing ample time to get information to the public and allow the passage of the vacation or summer season.

The decision was wise then and remains so.

There has been little in the way of additional information on the collaborative school provided, although administrators are planning to provide as much data as possible based on a fall town meeting date.

Andover people are to be surveyed on the proposal, which will virtually be impossible if the June town meeting date is determined.

As for the secret ballot issue, it is firmly felt that the days when municipal employees examined the town meeting floor and memorized those who voted in opposition to their wishes are gone forever.

It is doubted there would be any form of retribution toward persons voting one way or another on any issue facing town meeting. In recent years neighbors still got along with one another and employees were never threatened with job loss because of town meeting actions once the gavel fell closing the session.

The end of June is a busy time as people plan for the summer season.

It is not the time to be deciding on an issue which is so important to the future of two communities.

Certified signatures indicate the town meeting will be called, which is further proof that the town meeting system has outlived its usefulness in Andover.

But it isn't proper when agreed upon time schedules are to be bypassed.

The decision should be made in the fall, not at the outset of a summer season when municipal life is the least of anyone's concern.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

There isn't any question that cigarette smoking is injurious to one's health.

But, it would seem that those who opt for the risk, are rapidly being relegated to classifications once reserved primarily for lepers.

There are, of course, no smoking sections in restaurants, a matter approved by the legislature which by the way can't balance the state budget but can regulate what you do or don't do with your life. On that point a legislator from the Boston area has submitted for consideration this year a bill which would mandate that restaurants make margarine available to patrons.

Back to the smoking bit, airlines prohibit dragging on the weed if you happen to be on a flight lsting only a couple of hours.

And now, here in Massachusetts where the residents are facing a budget deficit, the House this week passed a revenue bill which would add another five percent in taxes on the cigarettes purchased.

Part of the problem in the old Bay State must, of course, be the fact that our fearless leader, the son of immigrant parents who left him around a million bucks, and has been running all over the country attempting to become President, while the state funds kept dissipating.

Now, in order to make up for all this and try and offset the losses, the state has approved whacking cigarette smokers, while those with free and open lungs are allowed to roam free.

Just doesn't seem fair.

Found out this week why stress has become such a big thing among the young people of our society.

It all starts when they are very young and forced into a sort of regimented life, rather than being allowed to enjoy themsleves.

Was watching a youthful soccer practice in the schoolyard behind the house the other night where a bunch of lovable tykes were dropped off to pursue their athletic careers.

A youngster was soundly admonished for not keeping his head and eyes on the ball, another was belittled for letting the ball get by him, and in general the coach, or better described as the head boob, had little praise or encouragement for the kids.

All in the name of recreation and sport.

Whatever happened to those days when kids played ball on their own in fields where the grass might be more than ankle deep and rocks were strewn about the grounds.

It may be fun and proper to equip youngsters and get them involved in competitive sports. But let's let them enjoy themselves while they can. There's going to be enough stressful situations to combat in later life, so let's not belittle some tyke for taking his eyes off the ball to watch a plane fly overhead.

Bushed

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On Saturday, April 30, we worked most of the day installing a new sign and planting four beautiful azaleea bushes at the entrance to the Andover Village Improvement Society Shawsheen River Reservation. Total cost $160. Our time is voluntary. On Thursday afternoon, May 5, a group of cub scouts, learning their civic duties, picked up the rubbish in the reservation. That evening we spread wood chips around the sign and bushes.

This was all in preparation for the 19th annual AVIS-sponsored canoe races on Saturday, May 7. It was to be a special day this year with a long dreamed of project complete. A spot of beauty at the entrance. But, it was not to be, because someone needed the four bushes elsewhere for another reason.

Seeing as the bushes were stolen tha day before Mother's Day makes one wonder. Could someone really steal a gift for Mother's Day? We can only assume they were really needed.

The area at the entrance to the reservation is very busy with traffic at all hours of the day. We have reason to believe that the theft took place very early Saturday morning in the daylight. Whatever your reason for taking the bushes, I am sure you feel it was a right and smart move. However, it was a theft. Your first time? Your second time?

During the canoe races, we found freshly dumped rubbish on the banks of and floating in the river. The same type of person: a thief and a litterbug. Sometimes our hours spent seem all in vain and, if it were not for the personal satisfaction, it would not be worth it.

A few years ago there ran an advertisement on TV that showed an American Indian with a tear rolling down his cheek. We believe he asks, as he looks at the rubbish on "his land," "Why?"

Correcting Inaccuracies

To the Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

First of all, I am writing as a resident of Andover for 17 years and second, as a person who works in insurance claims.

I am writing to correct inaccurate statements made by Fire Chief Harold Hayes regarding the ambulance service in town.

1. If no bills were sent out, nobody was able to collect from the insurance companies and pocket the money. No insurance company pays anything without a bill to substantiate the payment. I know as I pay them all the time in regards to auto accidents.

2. If the ambulance is used in an auto accident, everyone would be covered 100 percent under the owner's car insurance.

3. If not the result of an auto accident, most people with insurance have a $100 deductible. So once again, the middle class people who work and pay for insurance are going to pay the brunt of these bills out of their own pocket.

4. "The measure is expected to increase revenues by $100,000 annually." How much is it going to cost the town to use a third-party company to prepare mail and track the bills? Plenty!

5. I would like to see the town just bill people for the ambulance when used as the result of an auto accident for everyone. That way, no resident will have to pay anything out of their own pocket and the town will still get revenue.

6. Fortunately, I have never had to use the town ambulance and I hope I never will.

Collaborative School Vote

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Citizens for Neighborhood Schools is petitioning the town of Andover to hold a special town meeting before the end of this school year to address the proposed Andover/Lawrence Collaborative School.

The proponents have been studying this project for almost 1½ years and promoting it in public forums, ads and their print materials since October 1987. If the special town meeting is scheduled for June 20 (the last Monday before the school year is over), proponents will have had another month to get their message out and prepare their town meeting presentation.

By the proponents own standards, they should be prepared to bring the issue to the voters. The collaborative issue was originally scheduled for the April 1988 Town Meeting. However, it was withdrawn because 1) proponents wanted more time to await passage of legislation at the state level, 2) the bilateral agreement was not completed and 3) the community survey was not done.

The legislation was passed two months ago. The bilateral agreement is expected to be approved by the Andover School Committee by the time this letter is printed. That leaves the survey. Those who have been following this issue will know that we have been calling for a survey since October. The survey was to have been a comprehensive assessment of teachers, parents and taxpayers at large. The survey that is now being proposed is biased in its language and limited in its scope. The survey is not structured so that an objective analysis is assured. We are suggesting the ultimate survey—the ballot.

We have been hearing about the collaborative for months. It's time to vote. The community is best served, we believe, if the School Committee starts the new school year with this issue settled; to either implement the proposal or dedicate 100 percent of its time to the pressing needs of our existing schools.

Thanks

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I want to thank all the wonderful Andover people who made the clean-up weekend a great success. The joint work at the Merrimack River lands by AVIS and conservation committee volunteers collected an enormous pile of rubbish. Thanks to the TOWNSMAN for the pictures.

At Recreation Park, the Girls Scouts and more conservation committee volunteers overloaded the dumpsters by far. At a variety of other reservations, overseers and friends did more clean-up work. Thanks to all and hope for an even bigger and better effort next year.

Expand Survey

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Like many other home buyers, we decided to buy a house in Andover with one of the major considerations being the good reputation of the school system.

We have followed the collaborative school debate closel and feel that this is an important issue in regard to the future reputation of our school system. In a recent article in The TOWNSMAN on April 28, it was stated that the school committee has decided to prepare a questionnaire for parents having children 11 years old or younger regarding their preference to the proposed collaborative school. I strongly disagree that this survey should be limited to this group. I think there are many concerned homeowners who do not have children who feel that their opinions should also be heard. This proposed school will have an impact on our familiy in the future and we feel we should have our say, too.

Dissolving Town Meeting

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am troubled by where we are under Article 84 because I am not clear that the Town Meeting knew all it should have known or had all explained to it when it voted Article 84: "No annual or special Town Meeting shall be dissolved until all of the articles contained in the warrant for such meeting shall have been acted upon thereat."

Mrs. Salazar's presentation of the article was based upon a quotation she read from "Town Meetng Time—A Handbook of Parliamentary Law," Second Edition 1984. Mrs. Salaar read only part of the whole, that is, the portion of Section 61 (page 126) of the handbook which reads: In Town Meetings a motion to dissolve the meeting (or "to adjourn without day," which has the same effect) is not in order as long as any article in the warrant remains undisposed of. A vote to dissolve is ineffective and any voters who choose to stay may keep the meeting going. If they lack a quorum they may do no business, but they may adjourn to a fixed time or recess.

For some reason Mrs. Salazar did not read the very next paragraph which is much shorter than the one she did read.

That very next paragraph puts a very different light on the proposition that the Town Meeting may never be dissolved when any warrant article is left not acted upon, which is what Mrs. Salazar read to the meeting.

That simply is not true. The handbook makes it clear there is an exception and it sets out that exception which says: If there is no minority determined to keep things going, however, and no hope of ever attaining a quorum, the moderator might as well recognize the fact and accept a motion to be dissolved even if some business remains to be done.

Should the Board of Selectmen and the town give serious consideration to adding that exception to the new Article 84 Town Bylaw at the next Town Meeting?

Someone can now argue that Town Meeting intentionally omitted that exception simply because they did not adopt what was obviously so closely related to the proposal and was clearly part of the authority quoted.

Also, without that clear exception, confusion is very likely to result when a quorum is questioned late in a meeting and town fathers and officials may be thrown into an on-stage quandary of what to do to preserve the legality of action taken earlier in a meeting, most importantly, the town budget.

Hitchcock Farms Plan Examined

By Julie M. Barry

The Planning Board held a public hearing for the proposed Hitchcock Farms development at its meeting last week.

Hitchcock Farms would be a development of 22.8 acres of land off Haggets Pond Road. 10.35 acres of that property would be open space, the rest would be used for developing nine houses. The plan also calls for the construction of a new roadway coming in from Haggets Pond Road.

Drainage and earth movement were key issues discussed.

The drainage system, as designed in the plan, will handle the proposed sites under peak storms, said town planner Steve Colyer.

"The town engineer has reviewed all runoff calculations and has determined that the proposed drainage system, when tied to the existing lines, work satisfactorily," according to a press release.

The release also states that the installation of the new street and drainage lines will diminish existing overland water flows in the area.

Earth movement due to development was another area of concern. There will not be disturbances close to property lines, according to Paul Ferrante, engineer at Dana Perkins & Associates.

Colyer said he was satisfied that the drainage would divert water flow away from areas that are getting it right now. But, he says he's concerned that development might disturb abutting land.

The Planning staff will consider establishing boundaries away from the property lines to secure the safety of surrounding land. "There will be a change of runoff due to development, but the line will enable you to impede it," Colyer said.

Russ Moran, chairman of the Planning Board, noted that the developer had come a long way with the plan. He said the treatment of drainage and the overall design treats the site sensibly.

Despite this encouragement, there was still some concern from residents who live near the proposed development.

Ronald Farris of Haggets Pond Road expressed concern that additional water drainage would result on Haggets Pond Road as a result of the development. "There is definitely a water sheet flow problem on the roadway," he said.

It creates a hazardous situation, said Farris, who noted that large puddles, ice and pot holes result from the problem.

Water also accumulates on property. "If it rains for two hours, I have ducks fly in," Farris said.

Farris says he's concerned that additional building will compound the water and road safety problems.

Other residents echoed his concerns.

Colyer said that development in this area always leads to discussion about the existing road condition, not with the development itself. He says the problems with Haggets Pond Road are a town problem and must be dealt with in the master plan.

The Planning Board will vote on this issue at the end of June.

Collaborative

would, however, be included in the amendment, said Committeeman Richard Neal.

The majority of the school committee was satisfied with the revisions and they voted, four to one, to support the finalized agreement. "I think it's a good agreement," committee member Margo Tilghman said. "I'm very pleased and comfortable with it at this point."

"The questions we raised have been addressed," Robb added.

Susan Poore was the only committee member to vote against the agreement.

Voting for the agreement in spirit should be the school committee's final action until the issue goes before town meeting, according to Poore. She says Andover's legislative power is the town meeting, and that voting on the agreement is beyond the committee's power. "I don't believe the school committee of Andover should cross the line into jurisdiction they don't have," Poore said.

Committeeman Michael Frishman disagreed. "I think it's inappropriate to take it to town meeting without approval," he said.

Warriors Continue Winning; Gain Number One Ranking

By Rick Harrison

It was a busy week for the Andover High varsity baseball team, which earned a No. 1 ranking in the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Coaches Poll, established a two-game lead in the Large School Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference, and came within one victory of clinching a tournament berth.

The Golden Warriors had an opportunity to qualify for the tourney this past Monday, but a dramatic three-run homer in the bottom of the eighth inning by Chelmsford High senior shortstop Jim Moulton delayed the celebration as the Lions pulled out a 4-3 victory.

The previous two games were impressive victories, stretching the AHS win streak through five games (including four shutouts), as coach Dave Bettencourt's crew used a two-run seventh-inning rally to subdue Lawrence High, 3-2, and rode a second straight two-hit shutout by John Russell to a 4-0 triumph over Dracut on lucky Friday the 13th.

Those result left the Warriors at 11-3 overall, including 9-2 in the league, and through action this Monday AHS held a two-game MVC advantage over co-runnersup Lawrence and Billerica (both 7-4).

The locals were scheduled to play Lawrence in their twice-postponed contest last Tuesday night, hosted Small School Division leader Tewksbury (12-4) yesterday, and will entertain Lowell (8-6) tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Andover continues to receive outstanding pitching from junior righthanders Steve Surette (5-1) and John Russell (3-2), but last week for the first time the bats were not as active.

The Golden Warriors faced three top hurlers in lefty Shawn Phillips (Lawrence), righty John Buckley (Dracut) and righty Dave Bellemore (Chelmsford).

They managed just 17 hits and 10 runs in the three games, well below their season average in both departments.

Andover, 3-2

Steve Surette won for the fifth time this year, pitching his fourth complete game and once again not allowing an earned run as the Warriors started Lawrence on a three-game losing skid.

This marked the second time, with Billerica being the first, that Andover beat a team with a chance to take over first place.

Lancers' lanky lefthander Shawn Phillips, a pro prospect with a live fastball and sharp-breaking curve, had AHS hitters swinging for the high heat all afternoon as he and Surette matched goose-eggs for five innings.

Lawrence finally pushed across an unearned run in the top of the sixth, but Andover countered in the bottom half when Co-Capt. Tom Murray drilled a two-strike change-up curve into centerfield, stole second and eventually crossed as DH John Glynn's grounder was misplayed.

The visitors notched another run in the seventh, taking a 2-1 lead and setting the stage for Andover's clutch comeback.

Surette, who finished with a five-hitter and five strikeouts, launched the 11th-hour rally with a walk.

Rick Lafond also walked on four pitches, and junior Keith Abernathy followed with a sacrifice bunt that became an infield single after he placed it perfectly down the third base line.

Junior third baseman Steve Howes followed with a sacrifice fly to shallow rightfield, Surette tagging and scoring the tying run as Kevin Fielding's throw to catcher John Cavallaro sailed up the first base line.

Lafond and Abernathy advanced on the throw, setting the stage for Co-Capt. Scott Wallace whose sharp grounder handcuffed the Lancers' shortstop as Lafond raced home with the winning run.

Abernathy and Wallace led the six-hit charge against Phillips with two safeties apiece.

Phillips fanned nine but was victimized by his own wildness.

Andover, 4-0

John Russell, obviously not superstitious on Friday the 13th, throttled Dracut on two singles for his second straight shutout and the team's fifth of the spring.

All that was missing was a player named Jason to lead the attack.

Russell had blanked Gloucester 12-0 on two hits six days earlier, and against Dracut he struck out six, walked only two and retired the last nine batters without letting a ball leave the infield.

In fact, Dracut only hit two balls to the outfield all day as one of the singles was a slow roller to shortstop. Chris Chausse drilled a basehit to centerfield, losing pitcher John Buckley skied to leftfielder Mike Moriarty, and that was it was solid contact.

The Golden Warriors, meanwhile, manged just one run and two hits off Buckley (3-3) for the first five frames.

That run came in the bottom of the second when Moriarty laced a leadoff double down the leftfield line, took third on Chris Concemi's infield out, and scored on Steve Surette's single.

Surette subsequently stole second, moved to third on a balk, but was left stranded when Rick Lafond was gunned down by Buckley on an attempted bunt single.

The Middies' lone threat came in the fifth, as they advanced a runner beyond first base for the only time.

Steve Palermo drew a leadoff walk, moved to second on DH Pat Senior's sacrifice bunt, took third on Jay Gauthier's infield out, and died there when Russell fanned the next batter to end the inning.

Andover put the game away with three insurance runs in the sixth.

Moriarty again started the uprising with a one-out carbon-copy double down the leftfield line, and he was chased across quickly on John Glynn's single.

Chris Concemi reached on a fielder's choice, stole second, moved to third on Steve Surette's bad-hop infield single, and scored when Andover executed a perfect delayed double steal.

Surette later came across on Lafond's long triple.

Moriarty led the assault with his two doubles, while Surette finished the game 2-for-2.

Third baseman Steve Howes was the defensive standout for AHS, making a face-in-the-dirt diving stab of Jeff Halko's hard grounder to end the top of the fourth.

Second baseman Scott Wallace also handled four chances flawlessly.

Chelmsford, 4-3

Andover's third loss may have been the toughest to swallow, the Golden Warriors rallying for two runs in the top of the eighth only to lose it on Jim Moulton's one-out, three-run homer in the bottom half.

Tennis Teams Top Lowell To Clinch Conference Title

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High boys' and girls' varsity tennis teams produced by far their biggest victories of the season this past Monday afternoon, effectively clinching Merrimack Valley Conference championships once again with impressive wins over primary challenger Lowell High.

The boys whipped previously-undefeated Lowell, 4-1, and will undoubtedly share the title with the Red Raiders as both emerged from the match with identical 12-1 overall records.

Both have three league matches remaining and should coast to easy victories, which would mark a third consecutive title for coach Mike Wartman's Golden Warriors who have lost just four MVC matches in the last four years.

On the girls' side, undefeated Andover swept past Lowell 5-0 to grab a two-match lead over the second-place Red Raiders with just three remaining.

Should AHS win the championship it would be an unprecedented fifth straight and eighth since 1975 for the coach Laura Goodman's consistent and talented Golden Warrior girls.

The triumph over Lowell was also the 40th straight in league play for Andover, which is now 77-2 during its five-year distaff domination of the MVC.

Prior to the Lowell victories, the Andover boys and girls also registered important 4-1 victories over their Billerica counterparts last Friday afternoon.

Both Andover teams have qualified for the Eastern Mass. Team Tournament, which opens in approximately two weeks.

Andover Boys

Playing at the absolute top of its game in the must-win against Lowell, the Golden Warrior boys captured four matches in straight sets and reversed a pair of three-set losses in Lowell's 3-2 victory earlier this spring.

The key turnarounds came at third singles and second doubles, where Lowell had won the first time around.

Undefeated No. 1 player Jeff Hechemy, who last weekend advanced to this Saturday's quarterfinal round of the Eastern Mass. North Sectional Individual Championships, destroyed Roger Landry of the Red Raiders 6-2, 6-0.

"He has a great forehand," said Landry, who had won seven straight MVC matches since bowing to Hechemy 6-3, 6-2. "I think his backhand is exploitable, but not today because he just played extremely well in all facets of the game."

Likewise undefeated freshman No. 2 Chris Chiang kept things rolling Andover's way with a 6-2, 6-4 decision over Lowell's Roland Shaughnessy. Chiang won the final five games of the second set after falling behind 1-4.

Undefeated tri-captain Steve Napolitano made it a clean sweep in singles, blitzing Dave Spenard of LHS 6-1, 6-1. Spenard was playing with a sore shoulder but undoubtedly would have lost the match anyway.

Lowell's lone point came at first doubles where Scot Landry and Sridhar Kalluri struggled past Andover tri-captain Hugh Maginnis and Steve Gack 6-4, 6-7 (4-7 tiebreaker), 6-4.

Andover closed out the convincing victory with a 6-4, 7-5 triumph by the junior tandem of Pete Kannam and Scott Clementi at second doubles.

The Golden Warriors adjusted the lineup slightly for Billerica, sweeping singles neatly behind straight-set wins from Hechemy (6-0, 6-0), Napolitano (6-0, 6-4) and Maginnis (6-4, 6-4).

The makeshift tandem of Steve Gack and Rob Label played second doubles, capturing a come-from-behind 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 decision.

Pete Kannam and Scott Clementi were elevated to first doubles, and almost upset the undefeated Billerica duo of Don O'Sullivan and Scott Christo who finally prevailed 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

The Andover boys were co-champs with Chelmsford in 1986, won the title outright last spring, and are now 61-4 over the last four years.

Andover Girls

So dominant were the Andover girls that only one of the five matches in their 5-0 whitewash of Lowell went the full three sets.

Undefeated No. 2 singles' player and captain Liz Jurek dropped the first set to Lowell's Jen Silveria, 1-6, before rallying 6-2, 6-0.

Warriors

Ace pitchers Steve Surette and Dave Bellemore locked themselves in a torrid duel for the regulation seven innings, Surette permitting five hits and Bellemore four singles as they entered extras tied 1-1.

Bellemore, 2-3 this year and 13-3 for his varsity career, had been wild in a 9-8 loss to Andover earlier this spring.

This time around he walked only two, hit one batter (Tom Murray), fanned nine and finished with a six-hitter.

Surette, losing for the first time this year as his career record fell to 10-4, closed with a route-going eight-hitter, three walks and three strikeouts.

Until Moulton hammered his three-run homer Surette had yielded only one earned run in close to 40 innings.

The Lions inched ahead 1-0 in the first when Bill Avery reached on an error, Rob Lizine doubled and Moulton (four RBI) hoisted a sacrifice fly.

The Golden Warriors tied it in the second as Mike Moriarty singled, stole second, took third on John Glynn's infield out and crossed on Chris Concemi's sacrifice fly.

Andover threatened in both the sixth and seventh, getting a baserunner to third with two outs.

In the sixth Murray was hit by a pitch, but eventually stayed at third as Bellemore worked free with a strikeout. In the seventh Concemi singled, stole second and third, but the inning ended when Keith Abernathy lined to third baseman Lizine.

Andover looked like a winner in the eighth after Rick Lafond walked, stole second and third, and trotted home on Scott Wallace's double. Wallace then swiped third and continued home on the catcher's overthrow.

Moriarty followed with a single and stole second, but a strikeout ended the inning.

Chelmsford's winning rally started with a one-out single by Avery. Lizine kept things going with a single, and then Moulton delivered his backbreaking three-run blast to leftfield.

Bellemore was no mystery to Moriarty, who went 3-for-4, but Wallace's double and Concemi's single were the only other AHS safeties.

The letter t is the second most frequently used letter in books, newspapers and other printed material in English.

Junior Warriors Reach .500 Mark

By Dan Grams

The Andover High School Junior Varsity baseball team took three of five outings, reaching the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Chelmsford 6 - Andover 3

The Chelmsford Lions could manage just four safeties off lefthander Peter Radulski, but he was his own worst enemy, issung eight free passes, resulting in five runs as Chelmsford won 6-3.

Andover jumped to a 2-0 lead in the opening stanza. Peter Reming tripled and was brought home following a Curt Solomon RBI double. Solomon would later score on a perfectly executed double steal with teammate Pat Finn.

Chelmsford scored in the third and fourth frames.

The Warriors never posed a serious threat after the third, collecting just four hits in the contest. A Sean Gill two-out triple and a Dan Ferris safety were the other hits.

Peter Reming and Jason Proctor also helped out on the hill.

Andover 6 - Methuen 2

Andover slipped by Methuen 6-2. Sophomore Chris Eggert picked up his second win of the season against one loss. He allowed six hits while striking out seven.

Ahead 2-0, Andover scored the deciding runs in the fourth. Sean Gill and Dave Carriere drew leadoff walks. Dana Orlando and Dan Ferris followed with RBI singles, upping the lead 4-0. Run-scoring singles by Solomon and Doug Howes upped the margin 6-0.

The Junior Warriors touched up Ranger pitching for eight hits with Howes, Solomon, Ferris, Orlando, Kevin Freel, Peter Radulski and Andy Weiner all chipping in. Weiner and Jason Proctor were defensive stars.

Central 4 - Andover 2

In a rematch, Central Catholic edged Andover 4-2. Central, which slipped by Andover in extra innings in their first meeting, scored three runs in the opening inning and hung on the rest of the way.

Curt Solomon was the tough luck loser, tossing an eight hitter. He struck out four while walking one.

Three walks, a hit batsman and sacrifice flies off the bats of Peter Radulski and Solomon produced the two Warrior tallies in the fifth. A Dan Ferris double and a Paul Lembo safety were the lone Warrior hits.

Andver 10 - Wilmington 7

Andover raced to a commanding 6-0 lead, allowed the lead to change hands and then tallyied in the last inning to beat Wilmington 10-7.

Dan Ferris got Andover on the board early unloading a booming solo homer to lead off the second.

A Chris Eggert double, Paul Lembo single and Ferris double were the big hits in the fourth. Pat Finn also had a single in the four-run uprising.

Andover starter Peter Radulski appeared to be cruising toward his first victory, allowing just four base runners who were all picked off. Unfortunately, he could not get out of the sixth inning. When the smoke cleared, Wilmington held a 7-6 lead with Pat Finn the pitcher of record.

The Warriors rallied in the top of the seventh as Chris Eggert got a single and the next six hitters drew walks which proved to be the difference.

Ferris (home run and double) and Eggert led Andover with two hits each. Finn and Paul Lembo had the others.

Eggert also starred defensively throwing out two Wildcats from his right-field position.

Andover 5 - Billerica 2

In Andover's best played game to date they beat Billerica 5-2. This game featured some timely hitting to go along with a well played defensive game and another impressive pitching performance by Chris Eggert.

Andver scored a pair in the opening inning. With two outs, Peter Radulski was hit by a pitch. Curt Solomon followed with a single and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Paul Lembo deposited the first pitch he had into a two-run single.

Andover's third run came across via an error as did Billerica's two runs.

Dan Ferris' second double of the game brought Lembo home in the sixth and walks to Finn and Gill loaded the bases before a Dana Orlando HBP brought home another run.

Eggert was in control throughout, allowing seven hits and striking out nine. He was aided by Sean Gill who threw out two would-be base stealers. Peter Reming also had a solid game.

Tennis

Everything else was fairly routine, business as usual, including singles' sweeps by twice-beaten sophomore No. 1 Kate Doherty (6-2, 6-2) and undefeated sophomore No. 3 Mimi Bernardin (6-3, 6-2).

In doubles, sophomore Andrea Georgian and freshman Karen Lattatore remained perfect with a 7-5, 6-4 conquest of Lowell's Sarah Woo and Nancy Fontes, while unbeaten junior Julie Salazar and sophomore Jen Brodie rolled 6-1, 6-2 over Sharon Woo and Tara O'Leary of LHS.

Against Billerica, Kate Doherty gave her undefeated nemisis Leigh McCarty a strong run before falling 3-6, 6-3, 4-6.

Jurek and Bernardin were victorious, although the Indians' Dana Carrabba took Bernardin to three sets.

The doubles were a breeze, Georgian-Lottatore and Brodie-Salazar losing only five games in four sets.

Grams Graduates With Impressive Record

By Rick Harrison

It's a feeling about Andover's Mark Grams shared by many.

A description that fits him perfectly.

"Pound for pound he's the best college baseball player in New England."

The speaker was veteran University of Lowell coach Jim Stone, who has had the pleasure of watching the talented Chiefs' second baseman anchor his infield for the past four years.

The team captain is listed in the ULowell press guide as 5-7. He may be a shade taller. His weight is published at 145. He may be a few ounces heavier.

"One hundred forty five pounds soaking wet," insisted Stone. "By collegiate standards he isn't big, but you know what they say about good things coming in small packages."

We'll get to the impressive statistics later, but for now all you need know is that the former Merrimack Valley Conference football, track and baseball All-Star at Andover High will graduate this year with ULowell career records for games played, at-bats, hits, runs scored and stolen bases.

Numbers don't begin to tell the story of his value, however.

Nor do the figures fully explain why the Chiefs have won more than 100 games in his four-year tenure, and are opening play this afternoon in the Northeast Regional portion of the prestigious NCAA Division 2 Tournament at New Haven College.

"We're kind of married to Mark's family," explained coach Stone. "His two older brothers, Dan and Tim, both played for us. They're three great kids, and a lot of credit for that goes to their mother (Rosemary).

"When Mark came to us as a freshman I looked at him and thought he was small. Not too small — but small. That was before I really knew him.

"He didn't crack the lineup right away, but it didn't take long. We weren't playing well the first three or four games that year (1985), so I moved our second baseman out and put Mark in," recalled Stone. "We've been winners ever since and he's been a big part of that success.

"He's like another coach on the field. He's had terrific training and knows the game well.

"Mark gives 100 per cent all the time. He's a tremendous competitor and a great leader. He works just as hard defensively as he does at the plate, and that's something many players don't do.

"He doesn't like to lose, and wants his teammates to 'empty their bucket' because that's the way he plays. I think he just expects it of everyone.

"It didn't take long to realize Mark was going to be a good one," continued Stone. "He can beat you so many ways. His ability with the bat surprised me, and he does a lot of different things to get on base.

"He's an excellent contact hitter, a good drag bunter, knows the strike zone, hits to all fields and loves the gaps (left-center and right-centerfield alleys). And once he's aboard he can beat you with his speed.

"Defensively Gramsie covers a lot of ground, has quick hands and turns the doubleplay as well as any second baseman in any division in New England."

Stone has coached a lot of good baseball teams and many fine individual players, having a number of kids drafted by the pros including one of the finest catchers in the major leagues today (Golden Glove winner and .300 hitter Mike LaValliere).

He rates Grams alongside Bob Clancy, another former captain, as the best second basemen in the school's history. He also ranks Grams with Clancy and current ULowell assistant coach Ken Connerty as the team's greatest leaders.

One of the more amazing things about Grams has been his durability.

"He definitely has become more rugged through the years," said Stone. "He's stronger and he's tougher."

Proof of that came at mid-season in the opening game of a doubleheader at the University of New Hampshire.

"The first pitch of the game hit Mark in the head and shattered his helmet," related Stone. "The trainer checked him out and he kept playing. In the bottom of the

Freshman Teams Remain Sizzling

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Doherty and Andover West freshman baseball teams remained sizzling hot last week, Doherty sweeping past three Merrimack Valley Conference opponents and West disposing of two MVC foes.

Doherty defeated Wilmington (11-1), Lawrence (16-12) and Dracut (17-3), while West trimmed Central Catholic (8-2) and Methuen (10-0).

The outstanding performances by both left Doherty at 10-2 and West at 7-2 overall.

Doherty was scheduled to face Chelmsford (Monday) and Tewksbury (Wednesday) earlier this week, and travels to Lowell tomorrow afternoon.

West had games against Lowell (Monday) and Dracut (Wednesday), and will journey to Lawrence tomorrow afternoon.

The rematch between the archrivals, which will be the final Doherty-West confrontation ever (one freshman team next year), is scheduled for next Monday afternoon at Doherty (3:15 p.m.).

West won the first meeting, 8-2.

Doherty

The Doherty frosh, winners of three straight and nine of their last 10, opened last week with an 11-1 romp over Wilmington at the Wildcats' North Intermediate School field.

The locals did all their scoring in the first four innings, and rode the brilliant three-hit pitching of undefeated Mike Henry.

Henry, who boosted his record to 3-0, struck out nine and walked only one.

P.J. Johnson ignited the Doherty offense with two doubles and three RBI, while Henry helped himself with 2-for-3 and two ribbies.

Rounding out the top performers were Jim Landry (.400 average), who smacked a two-run double, and Dave Blank who lashed a two-run single.

Doherty scored two runs in the first, four in the second, three in the third and the final two in the fourth.

Coach Ted Boudreau's crew battled from behind against Lawrence, erasing a 10-5 deficit with nine runs in the bottom of the fifth en route to a 16-12 triumph at Doherty.

Righthander Todd Allard was the starting pitcher, working the first 3-2/3 innings. Lefty Jim Hanning pitched the next 1-1/3 frames and Mike Henry the final two.

The trio combined to whiff four and issue five walks, while Hanning was credited with the victory to hike his record to 2-1.

Jeff Hurley and Jim Landry powered the multi-hit attack, Hurley going 3-for-4 with an RBI triple and Landry 3-for-4 with a double and two RBI.

Scott Bernard contributed two hits and three RBI, while Dave Blank (triple) and Jess Collins added two hits and a pair of ribbies apiece.

P.J. Johnson laced an RBI double and single, Don Fraser spiked a two-run single and Jim Hanning had a run-producing basehit.

Centerfielder Sean Darwin made the defensive play of the game, racing into left-center for a fine running catch.

Doherty wrapped up the week with a 17-3 thrashing of Dracut, parlaying a 10-run second-inning explosion and the four-hit hurling of southpaw Dave Blank for the victory.

Blank, in lifting his record to 3-1, struck out 13 and walked three.

Jim Landry had another big afternoon with two hits and three RBI, while Don Fraser (.353 average) walked four times and stroked a single for three RBI.

Todd Allard clouted a two-run double, Mike Murnane a two-run single, and Mike Henry delivered a pair of basehits.

Blank and Sean Darwin slapped run-scoring singles, Dan Waitkevitch lofted an RBI sacrifice fly, and Jess Collins drew a bases-loaded walk for a run.

Darwin's single snapped his streak of six consecutive walks over a two-game span.

Doherty augmented the 10-run second stanza with two in the first, one in the fourth and four in the sixth. The game was halted after six innings by the 5:30 p.m. curfew.

West

Andover West received a pair of solid pitching performances from righthanders Mike Marinaro and Brett Hammond to key its sweep.

Marinaro (1-1, one save) tossed a complete-game four-hitter at Central Catholic, walking four and fanning two.

Bobby Sheehan resumed his torrid hitting with 3-for-4, barely missing the cycle with a single, double and triple. He also collected four RBI.

Bryan Smith produced the other big hit, a two-run triple, while catcher Garrett Ferris threw out another would-be basestealer and starred defensively.

Hammond came back several days later with a three-hit shutout at Methuen, upping his record to 4-0.

He struck out seven and walked just two en route to his second shutout of the spring.

Coach Ken Maglio's West team assault consisted of 15 singles, including two apiece by Joe Iarrobino, Chethan Haresh, Brad Cronin and Hammond.

Bryan Smith, meanwhile, put together a perfect 3-for-3 day.

Blue, Gold Teams Fill Rosters

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams were selected at the annual draft last week, which followed a series of tryouts at the Andover High and Andover West fields.

More than 50 candidates vied for the positions.

The 1988 Blue roster includes 15-year-olds Todd Allard, Adam Brown, Brendan Sharkey, Ryan Legrow and Joe Marinaro, 14-year-olds Bob Sheehan, Matt Harris, Chris Lembo, Ben Russell and Brian Novelline, and 13-year-olds Justin Hesinius, Gus Quattlebaum, Josh Nelken, Steve Shepard and Andy Novelline.

The 1988 Gold roster includes 15-year-olds Bill Batchelder, Matt Orlando, Don Fraser, Peter Arthur and Bryan Smith, 14-year-olds Jim Landry, Matt Daniels, Jim Hanning, Mark Hopkinson, Scott Halecki and Mike Daley, and 13-year-olds Mike Sullivan, Mike Famiglietti, Todd Murray and Keith Bilger.

The two teams began practices last weekend and will open regular-season play in the Greater-Reading Pony League in mid-June.

League games will be against teams from Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Lynnfield and Wilmington.

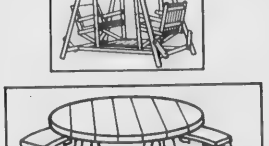

Both Gold and Blue have won their respective regular-season division titles each of the last three years.

Gold was the overall GRPL champ in 1985 and 1986, while Blue emerged as co-champ with Lynnfield last summer.

Logjam Atop National Majors

By Jim Arnold

There's an early season logjam atop the National Major Division of the Andover Little League with the Braves, Pirates and Cardinals all tied with 3-1 records.

The five-team division has played games exclusively against American League opponents. Interleague play will conclude this week. Then, National League teams will play one another for the remainder of the season. The season consists of two halves. The first half includes nine games.

Pirates 16 - Orioles 1

Lefty Toby Guzowski clubbed a grand slam, a second homer, triple and single at the plate. On the mound he fanned nine in three innings for a half-share in a no-hitter.

Matt Marvin pitched the other three frames, also striking out nine, in his first major league appearance.

Alex Marshall and Peter Daniels ripped three hits, Steven Hosmer and Chris Corcoran accounted for two apiece and Jason Cavenly, Kevin Ralston, Danny Evans and Ben Weiner hit one each.

Oriole highlights included the hurling of Chris Hoffman and catching of Mike Trombley.

Pirates 23 - White Sox 10

Matt Marvin led the parade with a three-run homer and double while Toby Guzowski slamed his third circuit clout of the young season.

Dan Evans had four hits, Chris Corcoran had four safeties while Jason Cavenly, Peter Daniels and Alex Marshall accounted for two each. Louis Capobianco and Steven Hosmer struck once apiece.

The Pirate lead was 7-6 before an 11-run outburst in the fourth inning.

J.P. Ciruso crashed a triple and double for the Sox while Tim Foley and Mike Lombard each hit well. Foley contributed the defensive gem of the contest with a diving catch in centerfield.

Cubs 23 - Orioles 10

Rick Saggese's second inning grand slam propelled the Cubs to a season-opening triumph over the Orioles. The Cub lead was 14-3 after three innings. Other timely Cub clubbing was done by Albie Giangregorio, Pat Walsh and David Kelmer. Walsh claimed the mound victory. John Hall and Mark Langone chucked relief innings.

Matt Gibson and Rob Wyatt threw credibly for the Orioles.

Girls' Tennis State Champions

By Andrea Georgian

The Andover High School girls' tennis team once again proved themselves as dominating tennis players in the individual state championships held at Peabody High School May 14-15. Andover's number one singles player, Cate Doherty, was ranked fifth. In her first match on Saturday, she overpowered her oponent from Notre Dame 6-0, 6-0. On Saturday afternoon, Cate beat a girl from Amesbury 6-2, 6-0 and came back on Sunday morning to beat an opponent from North Andover 6-1, 6-1. Cate played an excellent match in the afternoon but lost 4-6, 5-7 to a girl from Winchester.

Liz Jurek, Andover's number two singles player, got a bye on her first round. She beat an opponent from Amesbury 6-2, 6-0, but had hard luck on Sunday morning, drawing the number one seed in the tournament. Despite great playing, Liz lost 0-6, 0-6. Mimi Bernardin, Andover's number three singles player, played her first match Saturday morning and beat her rival from Hamilton-Wenham 6-4, 6-1. She played an excellent second round match, but lost 2-6, 2-6 to the same girl that beat Cate.

Andover's first doubles team of Andrea Georgian and Karen Lottatore won their first round match against Pentucket 6-1, 6-3. They had a tough second-round match with Amesbury but won 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. Georgian and Lottatore lost a difficult match to Lynnfield 1-6, 3-6 in the quarterfinals.

Andover's second doubles team of Julie Salazar and Jen Brodie played their first round Saturday morning against a tough team from North Reading and, despite their super efforts, lost 4-6, 6-3, 1-6.

Grams

inning a relatively easy ground ball was hit to him, and he booted it. That's when I realized something was wrong.

"At the end of the inning I asked him what happened, and Mark said he saw three baseballs coming at him. I told him next time just to go for the middle one."

Grams sat out the rest of that game, but returned for the nightcap and banged out four hits.

The hard-hitting Chiefs, who usually win this spring by outscoring people, have been on a roll ever since, winning their final 14 games of the regular season to enter the NCAA Tournament with a single-season school-record 30 victories and 30-7 overall mark.

Getting back to Grams' ironman status, it should also be noted he plays a somewhat dangerous position. Second basemen must make the pivot on the doubleplay and stand in against hard-charging runners.

"He's taken a couple hard pops and withstood it all," noted Stone. "And he's accomplished everything playing with only one kidney."

As a youngster Mark did have kidney problems, being forced to take medication and undergo treatment at Children's Hospital for several years.

About the only thing that has eluded Mark Grams over the past four years is sufficient recognition around New England for his accomplishments.

Mark was an All-New England Collegiate Conference selection as a freshman, and made second-team All-New England as a sophomore.

He has been beaten out for several top honors by highly-publicized New Haven second baseman Ken Coleman, who is also a standout basketball player, but many observers feel Grams is at least Coleman's equal.

Hopefully Mark will receive his due when the honors are passed out again this year.

As mentioned earlier, Grams enters today's NCAA Tournament opener as the University of Lowell career leader in many categories.

He has played 139 games in four years, been at bat 502 times, scored 168 runs, laced 183 hits and stolen 52 bases.

Those are all ULowell records.

He also has 29 doubles, nine triples, 90 RBI, 78 walks and 41 strikeouts.

13-Year-Old League

Giants Jump Into Lead

The Giants jumped to a 4-0 league-leading record in the Andover 13-year-old Little League.

The Giants beat the Red Sox 8-1 in the opener behind the one-hit pitching of Gus Quattlebaum and Andy Brown. Brendan Finneran had three base hits, driving in a pair, Quattlebaum had two hits and two RBIs, Brown, Chad Bowman and Dan Trede each had two hits with one RBI and John Bowman had a double Todd Murray was the hard-luck pitcher and also doubled for the Red Sox.

The Giants defeated the White Sox 8-5 as Brown struck out 11 in a complete game effort. Brown and Quattlebaum had two hits each and five RBIs between them. Jason Loomer at first and Brian Carey at third made some fine fielding plays. Keith Bilger, with a pair of hits, John Shea and Kevin Sharkey were the Sox offense.

The Giants won a 5-3 thriller over the Pirates. Centerfielder John Bowman had three base hits and Quattlebaum and Finneran had two hits and two RBIs each. Brown and Chad Bowman doubled and singled. Matt Fenton kept the deciding rally alive with aggressive base-running, Bobby Daley and Matt Reghitto had back-to-back triples for the Pirates.

The Giants and Braves battled to a 7-6 conclusion with darkness in the Giants' favor. Quattelbaum and Brown shared piching chores. Quattlebaum had three hits, catcher Finneran had two base hits, knocking in a pair, and second baseman Chad Bowman singled twice with one RBI. John Bowman, Mike Santangelo, Danny Trede and Greg Peters singled. John Brodbine played well defensively. Mike Famiglietti pitched and held the Braves' offense with a single and triple, knocking in three. Steve Sheppard, Mike McCarthy and Josh Kelly had base hits.

drafting.

A new program is being considered that may increase Andover involvement in the Technical School.

Shared Time, a cooperative program between the two schools, may be introduced at Andover High School next year, but it's still in the planning stages, according to Wilbur Hixon, Andover High principal.

Students would spend half of the day at the Technical School to gain hands-on training, and half of the day at Andover High School for their academic classes. "It's a great opportunity for students who are going to terminate their formal education at the end of grade 12," Hixon said.

He says about 20 percent of Andover High school students do not further their education.

Just why Andover enrollment is declining may be hard to pinpoint, but Gleason says there may be a misunderstanding about what goes on at the school.

Many Andover parents may be sheltering their children because they're not allowing them the choice, said Grasso.

"The opportunities are out there. It (Technical School) is a heck of a way to get a start," Gleason said.

Settling Personal Injury Claims

Persons injured in accidents are often contacted directly by an insurance company and asked to give details of the accident or discuss settlement. Talking to an insurance adjuster yourself or settling your claim before you understand its true value can be a very costly mistake. It is wise to consult an attorney as soon as possible after the accident and to have your attorney assist you in responding to all questions concerning the accident.

Contact Neil E. Onerheim or John S. Wessler, who represent accident victims seeking compensation for their injuries.

Le Studio de Ballet

How furtunate Andover is to have a ballet school the caliber of Le Studio de Ballet! Here one has the opportunity to learn the pure form of ballet and correct techniques whether they are youngsters three years old or senior citizens.

Owner and instructor Margaret Earle was trained at the Royal Danish School of Ballet in Denmark. Her enthusiasm for teaching and enjoyment of her students is equalled by their eagerness and joy in learning.

With the current awareness of fitness, many adults are participating in the school's classes. In addition to toning and firming, one is able to learn the discipline of ballet and enjoy the beautiful musical accompanyment.

Mrs. Earle's students are eager to discuss their reasons for choosing to study ballet.

Abigail Woodruff: "I like learning the hard things and enjoy doing the easier things. The best part is the performances. Ms. Earle doesn't push, but tries to get you to do new things."

Beth Picardi: "Ballet is a fun way to dance. Ms. Earle encourages you until you get the step right. My favorite dances are from Swan Lake and the Nutcracker. I am looking forward to choreographing my own dance some day."

Katie Aeder: "I like the jumps best and when Ms. Earle lets you pick the steps. I would like to be a dancer and someday do the Nutcracker."

Michele Yu: "I just like everything about ballet." (Michele's mother, Sharon, is also enrolled in an adult class.)

Four girls from the Givens family are all studying at Le Studio de Ballet:

Bethany (4½ years old): "I like the songs best."

Robyn (7 years old): "I like the bar exercises."

Claire (7 years old): "My favorites are 'chalnes turns.' "

Janine (9 years old): "I like the dances best, especially the Tarantella."

The ballet students have a yearly performance and occasionally perform for the senior citizens. The school will miss their pianist, Karin Kohl, who is leaving, and are looking for a replacement. Anyone wishing to apply for the position may contact Margaret Earle.

The Mail Room

As of March of this year, The Mail Room is under new management and is expanding its services to better accommodate the small businesses in the area. When the new owners, Kathy Widell and Christopher O'Keefe, took over, the Mail Room was well established as a place for residents to purchase supplies, find gift wrapping, mailing services and receive advice on the fastest way to ship their parcels.

Of special interest to the business community is the addition of secretarial services, word processing. FAX machine (transmits documents via telephone), Toshiba copier (capable of reducing and enlarging) and maintaining mailing lists. The private postal boxes offer the convenience of call-in service and receiving packages in addition to a prestigeous address with its own suite number.

The Mail Room carries a complete line of supplies for your shipping needs: regulation boxes, padded envelopes, tape, styrofoam peanuts, bubble wrap, mailing tubes, gift wrap and ribbons. All you need is the package. There are no size or weight restrictions. The customer pays only for the needed supplies. The packing and wrapping services are provided free.

Whether your needs are to transport packages or letters to Boston, across the country or internationally, the Mail Room will be able to advise you on the fastest and most economical way to ship.

Another advantage is parking at the door and no long lines.

Shawsheen Potential Examined

The Shawsheen River, the protection and enhancement of its shores, its accessibility for recreational users and its water quality were subjects of discussion at an informal meeting on April 25 in Andover Town Hall. Maria Van Dusen, coordinator for the Adopt-A-Stream program of the state Division of Fisheries, Wildlife and Environmental Law Enforcement, opened the discussion by explaining that Adopt-A-Stream was intended to encourage better use of rivers and streams for fishing, boating, wildlife habitat and for increased public enjoyment of their scenic qualities. She felt that the Shawsheen River was an excellent example of a stream that could benefit from this program and said that some funding is available for land acquisition and easements along riverfronts.

Susan Ziegler, staff planner for the Department of Environmental Management's Bay Circuit program, explained that riverways can be important connecting links from town to town in establishing a linear Bay Circuit greenway. There are currently no funds for land acquisition available under this program, although legislation to provide funding is pending, but staff time can be provided to help citizen initiatives get started. She pointed out that a regional organization, such as a watershed association, would probably be considered a better approach than a solely local effort from which just one town might benefit.

Participants in the ensuing discussion identified a number of problems and areas for improvement on the Shawsheen River in Andover. Chief among these was the riverfront as it flowed from Abbott Bridge (Horn Bridge) at Central Street through the center of Andover and the Shawsheen area. Improvements to this section have been a recommendation for many years in Andover's open space plan where it has been pointed out that landscaping, screening, river-oriented businesses in appropriately zoned locations and increased public access could turn a neglected resource into a major town asset.

The decline in water quality and volume of the river above the Ballardvale dam was identified as a major problem. This is also the situation at the Stevens Street dam where an inadequate portage poses special problems for canoeists. Regular cleanup of the river, including areas of excessive siltation, was identified as an important need.

It was agreed that to attack such complicated problems widespread participation and a high degree of interest from local businesses and citizenry is needed. It was also recognized that it was important to try to work with upstrream communities since what happened to the river upstream could greatly affect the water quality downstream. An effort to form a Shawsheen River watershed association with representatives from each of the seven communities in the watershed will be made. An initial meeting will probably be held in May. Anyone who would like to participate should call or write Maria Van Dusen, Adopt-A-Stream, 100 Cambridge St., Room 1902, Boston, MA 02202.

It was further agreed that a meeting for businessmen whose businesses are located on or near the river will be arranged to investigate the possibilities for business participation in a river improvement effort. There will be a speaker with expertise in local efforts to improve streams.

"New Federalism."

It is no secret that this year we will have to do serious belt-tightening because revenues have dropped. Unlike the federal government, we are prohibited from running deficits by the Massachusetts Constitution, and for this we all ought to be very grateful.

The Legislature will cut increased spending and will balance the budget as we were elected to do. However, what appears to be an easy task with 11½ billion dollars is not easy for the reasons I outlined. Citizen lobbying, huge increases in local aid, court mandates, and federal cuts leave little room for maneuvering.

As always, I welcome your comments on the budget and the budget process. You may write to me at Room 473-G at the State House in Boston 02133 or call 722-2070.

Champagne Elements of Hair

l. to r. back row: Tony Francisco, Paulette LaPlume, Charles Peters, Mary DiZazzo, front: Jody Monfet, Linda Mele, Myriam Ortega (not pictured: Elizabeth Morach)

Not only is Champagne Elements of Hair on the "cutting edge" of what is new and exciting in hair and beauty care, it is one of the few smoke free beauty salons in New England. This affords its customers a more pleasant and healthful environment in which to relax. the concept is consistent with the staff's volunteering their time and expertise to Lung Association benefits.

Champagne has an impressive staff of trained professionals. They have studied throughout the United States and Europe and learned the techniques at such famous and respected names as Vidal Sassoon, Sebastian and Paul Mitchell.

The staff is known as being among the first in the area to introduce new trends. This season's styles include the spiral perm, the piggyback for long hair and the boomerang. Hair accessories are in vogue this year and many styles will be enhanced by pearls, ribbons, flowers and the translucent cellephane that was such a hit at the Newcomers of the Andover fashion show this spring.

A line of products is available to maintain the health and beauty of hair as summer approaches and we become concerned about sun, wind and chlorine damage.

Mary Di Zazzo is available for all manicure needs from a broken nail to appliques., French manicures and nail art using foil and rhinestones.

In addition to owning Champagne, Linda Mele manages a rock and roll band out of Boston, The Interlude. She caters to many entertainment personalities and maintains that "Your band's image is just as important as your music".

Champagne is expanding its facilities in June. Linda Mele and her staff are available for free consultation, as well as hair and beauty care. Hours are Tues., Thurs. and Fri. 9 to 8 P.M., Wed. 9 to 6 P.M. and Sat. 9 to 5 P.M. The salon is located at 22 Park Street, Andover. Phone: 475-9913.

Introducing the Hawkswood Estate at Point Shore:

For those with a dream, and about $300,000 to spend for it.

When finished, there will be just 18 units here on this magnificent 10-acre penninsula overlooking the steep banks and broad flow of one of New England's great rivers.

Right now, they are in various stages of studs and beams and sheetrock. But even at this inelegant stage of construction, there are only seven left for sale.

Quite emphatically, these dwellings are not the typical "condo," the smallish place one settles for when his "real" home becomes too much of a bother. No, these are to be spacious 2,500 to 3,500 square foot units—elegant, spacious, secure, and private.

Very, very private.

You may look upon Hawkswood as a vacation home that you're fortunate enough to live in permanently.

Or as one of the last remaining gracious, environmentally responsible havens within the North Shore, yet only minutes from downtown Newburyport.

Or as a moderately expensive inducement to get the children to visit.

At any rate, if you're prepared to invest between $300,000 and $390,000 to fulfill a slightly immodest dream, we should be happy to show you this splendid concept. (617) 388-1104.

INCREASE IN 2-INCOME BUYERS

An increasing number of first-time home buyers have a two-wage earner family. A most recent survey found that 75% of repeat home buyers were two-income families, up from 50% four years ago. However, among first-time buyers, a whopping 86% have two-income earners. This is up from 62% four years ago. Of the home buyers interviewed, three out of every four families had two incomes. As can be seen, there is a definite two-income trend in homebuying.

Until a few years ago, only the income of the husband was considered when qualifying for a mortgage. Fortunately, the philosophies of the lenders have changed. New laws have forced many such changes. Equal rights legislation have impelled lenders to revise the archaic thinking. The wife's income is now taken into account equally with that of her husband. Thus, the combined incomes of husband and wife for mortgage purposes are used to determine the monthly payment that couples qualify for.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

Schruender Real Estate

ABOUT THE LOAN APPROVAL PROCESS

Applying for a mortgage loan brings out the paranola in everyone, even those who are most compulsive and consistent about paying their bills on time. Remember, however, that the lender wants your business and will do everything possible to work with you to help finalize your home purchase.

If you pay your bills more or less on time, you should have nothing to worry about. If you have a record of late payments but no serious credit problems, you may have to provide the lender with a written explanation of why certain payments were late, but if your excuse is reasonable, your loan will probably go through. If you have had serious credit problems, you should sit down with a lender before you begin house hunting and see if you can clear them up. If you are an unrepented deadbeat, you could have real difficulties in obtaining a mortgage, but short of that, your lender can probably help you work things out.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate are ready to serve you. Call us at 685-5000 or drop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Axelrod Condominiums Face Denial By Appeals Board

By Frank Messina

Officially, there has been no decision on the 11 variances requested by Harry Axelrod to build condominiums next to his public golf course in Andover.

Unofficially, the Zoning Board of Appeals shot Axelrod's proposal dead in the water as a straw vote of ZBA members taken at a deliberation meeting last Saturday turned down all 11 variance requests.

The ZBA did, unofficially, allow the Andover Public Golf Course to stay in business. The golf course had been in violation of town bylaws requiring an outdoor recreation facility to be located on 50 acres of land.

ZBA Chairman Wesley Whitney drew the assignment of writing a decision review, which the other board members will read, then decide whether to ratify their earlier vote.

By law, Whitney has 90 days to file his decision review. However, he is expected to complete the review before the deadline.

Tom Kelsch of John Crowe Associates, project manager of the proposed condominiums, declined to comment on the straw vote. Kelsch said he preferred to wait for an official decision before talking about the ZBA action.

If the ZBA decision is confirmed, "I would be very disappointed. I'm very adamant in that the best use for that land is condominium development," said Axelrod attorney, Richard Asoian.

Neighbors of the project have taken the attitude of 'if we beat this, it's all over,' said Asoian, "but something is going to go on that land."

Asoian would not comment on Axelrod's future plans, saying he needed to wait until the ZBA written decision was issued.

However, he did hint that the golf course would be affected by possible changes in the project.

It would be a shame, "for the town to lose a limited number of well-built condominiums and retention of the golf course," said Asoian.

Frank Firicano of 12 Greenwood Drive, whose property abuts the project site, said he was "obviously, pleased at the decision. I'm particularly happy that the neighborhood took the announcement of the project seriously and showed resistance."

Firicano added that he isn't necesarily opposed to development in the area, but, "my feeling is that condominiums are not in the best interest of the town."

The Axelrod proposal, which included 10 variances and two special permit requests "was outrageous to begin with. The developer would probably have settled for half (of the requested variances). I think the town planners sent a signal to them saying that they better come in with a more reasonable proposal," said Firicano.

Tour Guides

High school students ages 15 years or older with an interest in history and public affairs are invited to a State House orientation session on June 8 and 14 at 3 p.m. to learn how they can lead summer tours through Beacon Hill's oldest building.

Originally designed by noted architect Charles Bulfinch and completed in 1798, the State House and its furnishings symbolize the Commonwealth's rich heritage. Amidst this historic backdrop, the state legislature convenes to shape the laws that guide Massachusetts today.

Once trained, students can arrange their own schedules but are expected to volunteer a minimum of 20 hours. Tours are conducted Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

To reserve a place in one of the orientation sessions, call Anita Smith, director of tours.
